(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, March 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The President has changed his itinerary to include a trip to the Grand Cañon of the Colorado, north of Flagstaff, Ariz.,

and has cut out the proposed ascent of Mount Shasta, the great peak that dominates all of Northern California.

A trip to the top of Shasta would take two days of the hardest work.

The Grand Cañon trip can be made by train, though an exploration of the cañon would require a trip on mule-back along precipitous 2000 feet high.

A delegation of Arizona cowboys has been formed, and advices have been received to the effect that they will meet the President at the Grand Cañon, where a round-up will occur. A big black bear, captured in Sonora, in the Yaqui country, will be presented to the President.

"Bully!" exclaimed the President,

when he was told of the arrangements.

"I'm going to have a bully time out

West."

SONS OF THE REVOLUTION.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, March 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The California Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, through William M. Barker,

Washington representative of the Chamber of Commerce of San Francisco, today extended to the President an invitation to attend the reception of the society when he is in San Francisco in May next. Barker called on the President at the request of Oliver

H. Gray, president of the California society. Some months ago the society invited the President to be its guest when in San Francisco, and was informed that the plans were then indefinite. The invitation was accepted by the President today, subject to conditions which may arise at the time of his visit to San Francisco.

POINT BARROW MAIL SERVICE.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, March 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Senator Bard left Washington this afternoon for California. But for illness in Mrs.

Bard's family, the Senator would not have left so early. As it is, he expects to remain in California only a short time, and will sail with his family for England on board the Star liner Cedric from New York about the middle of June.

Before leaving Washington, Senator

Bard called on Second Assistant Postmaster-General Shallenbarger and suggested to him that postal service be established connecting the outside world with Point Barrow, the northern extremity of Alaska. His plan is to have two round trips made during the winter from Kotzebue Mission, the point farthest north which the postal service reaches at present, to Point

Barrow. At Point Barrow there is a

SCRAMBLE OF THE RUSHERS.

Excited Over the Opening of Million Acres.

Beisging Land Office from All Over United States.

Proposition to Colonize Ten Thousand Ranchers in Colorado River Country.

If present indications hold true, one of the greatest "land rushes" of modern times in the West will start in the United States Land Office here in June, when the million acres of land recently restored to the government to public domain, reaching from Mojave to the Colorado River, is thrown open to entry.

"Talk about the California fever," said Receiver Kinney yesterday, peering above a huge stack of freshly-opened letters, "isn't this dreadful?"

The Land Office is receiving nearly two hundred letters a day, many of them written in the feverish tones of the land grabber, who already sees himself enriching on fertile virgin acres of the Land of Promise, requesting detailed descriptions of the territory in question, and incidentally affording amusing—sometimes interesting—information concerning plans being formulated for the rush from the East.

These anxious inquiries are coming in from every State of the Union, far away Maine being well represented in the mail bag, while more, perhaps, than from any other locality are received from Oklahoma, where a big land opening is fresh in the mind of the settlers, who have found public land-taking most profitable, and are seeking to expand.

One of the letters that adequately registers the high temperature of the "fever" which the announcement of the coming land opening in Southern California has aroused is from an agriculturalist of New York State, who requests the fullest details, stating that he is planning to settle a colony of 10,000 ranchers on the desert if he can locate his bunch "on the ground floor" of the agricultural sections along the river.

A young husbandman writes that he would consider it a great favor if the Land Office here would reserve him a little piece of the desert right away, as he has just married and wants to settle immediately without having to pack up his traps twice.

Correspondents send along addresses of ten or a dozen friends, asking that information may also be mailed to them. By thus banding together the eastern farmers who would hitherward come if they are told how, save considerable postage.

A pilgrimage to the rich sections along the river to be included in the operations now in progress under the provisions of the National Irrigation Bill has set in. These captivate the choice bits sought by the public, and

THIRTY-ACRE FLOWER FARM.

Greatest in the West and All in Carnations.

Brilliant Enterprise Stated by Los Angeles Workers.

Possibilities of the Flower-garden Industry are Great—High Prices.

Boyle Heights is to become the site of the largest flower garden west of Chicago, and of greenhouses that will be one of the famous attractions of the Angel City.

Thirty-seven acres of carnations will soon add their fragrance to the breezes of the highlands, and in nine mammoth glass houses the buds will be brought to bloom.

The new enterprise is known as the Grace Hill Nursery, and its location is on the high mesa at the northeast corner of Wabash avenue and Zonal street.

Joseph W. Wolfkill is the proprietor, and the head gardener is George W. Watson. These men are pioneers in the carnation-growing industry in Southern California, and their long experience will be of much value in making the Boyle Heights carnation fields successful and spectacular.

Mr. Wolfkill was one of the first to engage in the enterprise at Redondo, and Mr. Watson spent thirteen years there in charge of the work. He has originated many of the varieties now on the market.

GREAT HOUSES OF GLASS. The new carnation farm already begins to show the extensive plans made for the enterprise. Three greenhouses have been completed and are occupied. They are each 200 feet long and 15 feet wide, and their building required ten tons of glass.

Just to the south of these six similar greenhouses are to be constructed, requiring twenty-five tons of glass and 25,000 pounds of putty for the glazing.

A complete steam-heating plant is installed, and with the new greenhouses it will comprise 6500 feet of one-inch pipe.

During the last week about five acres have been prepared for the young carnation plants, and most of these were set before the recent heavy rains, giving them a great advantage. This tract is irrigated by a system of 4000 feet of one-inch and 150 feet of two-inch pipe, supplied from the city waterworks.

It has been determined that an abundant water supply can be produced on the land, and in the near future two wells will be sunk.

The investment in the new enterprise at present is approximately $10,000, and this is but the beginning of the industry. Its possibilities are practically unlimited, as there is a demand for every blossom the gardeners can produce.

Local florists, since the heavy frosts of the past winter, have been largely supplied by San Francisco growers, and have paid from 75 cents to 90 cents per dozen, wholesale, for the northern-grown flowers. Even at this rate the market could not be supplied.

The Grace Hill Nursery wholesales its carnations at 2 1/2, 4 and 5 cents a blossom. The blossoms now retail at 10 cents each—double the normal price.

The removal from Redondo to Boyle Heights was made on account of climatic conditions, and the new location being located only a few minutes' travel from the retailers.

IT'S AN EXPANDING BUSINESS. Mr. Watson, who has made carnation-culture his life study, states that a healthy plant will average twenty perfect blossoms a season, and that on this basis the flower-growing enterprise ought to develop into a concern of much commercial importance.

"There is no telling where it might spread to," said he yesterday. "We have a constant demand for carnations, and we can produce, and even with the extensions planned here probably we shall be able to supply only the local market. However, should there be a surplus, orders from Arizona, cities would soon overwhelm us."

"We cut the blossoms twice a day, and the three greenhouses now in operation produce from 500 to 1000 per day. The plants just set out will be placed in the greenhouses in July, and their blossoms will be ready to cut for market in October."

The Grace Hill enterprise is probably the initiation of extensive flower-culture for commercial purposes in this city. The action of men of long experience in locating here, and the demand is enormous, and that the industry could be profitably extended, so as to supply the territories of Arizona and New Mexico, as well as the local market.

At any rate, it is a shame for the "Land of Flowers" to have to go north for a considerable part of its blossoms.

This tract is irrigated by a system of 4000 feet of one-inch and 150 feet of two-inch pipe, supplied from the city waterworks.

It has been determined that an abundant water supply can be produced on the land, and in the near future two wells will be sunk.

The investment in the new enterprise at present is approximately $10,000, and this is but the beginning of the industry. Its possibilities are practically unlimited, as there is a demand for every blossom the gardeners can produce.

Local florists, since the heavy frosts of the past winter, have been largely supplied by San Francisco growers, and have paid from 75 cents to 90 cents per dozen, wholesale, for the northern-grown flowers. Even at this rate the market could not be supplied.

The Grace Hill Nursery wholesales its carnations at 2 1/2, 4 and 5 cents a blossom. The blossoms now retail at 10 cents each—double the normal price.

The removal from Redondo to Boyle Heights was made on account of climatic conditions, and the new location being located only a few minutes' travel from the retailers.

IT'S AN EXPANDING BUSINESS. Mr. Watson, who has made carnation-culture his life study, states that a healthy plant will average twenty perfect blossoms a season, and that on this basis the flower-growing enterprise ought to develop into a concern of much commercial importance.

"There is no telling where it might spread to," said he yesterday. "We have a constant demand for carnations, and we can produce, and even with the extensions planned here probably we shall be able to supply only the local market. However, should there be a surplus, orders from Arizona, cities would soon overwhelm us."

"We cut the blossoms twice a day, and the three greenhouses now in operation produce from 500 to 1000 per day. The plants just set out will be placed in the greenhouses in July, and their blossoms will be ready to cut for market in October."

The Grace Hill enterprise is probably the initiation of extensive flower-culture for commercial purposes in this city. The action of men of long experience in locating here, and the demand is enormous, and that the industry could be profitably extended, so as to supply the territories of Arizona and New Mexico, as well as the local market.

At any rate, it is a shame for the "Land of Flowers" to have to go north for a considerable part of its blossoms.

COAST TRAIN IS WRECKED

Engine and One Car Piled by the Trackside.

Miraculous Escape of Train Crew and the Passengers.

Accident Due to the Flood and the Spreading of the Rails.

The northbound Coast Line Limited train of the Southern Pacific, which left Los Angeles at 8 o'clock yesterday morning, was wrecked two miles south of Saugus, shortly before noon.

The person was killed by a little short of miraculously as the engine and one car were piled in a heap and another car left the track.

The cause of the accident was the softening of the roadbed by the heavy rains of the night before. The train was on time, and had just dropped the helper engine, which pushes from Fernando through the Newhall tunnel to the top of the heavy grade south of Saugus. The train was running at the rate of thirty miles an hour, when it struck a piece of defective track where the ballast had been washed from between the ties. Under the weight of the heavy engine, the track spread and the locomotive plunged into the ditch on the left of the track and turned completely over upon its side. The fireman saved himself by jumping, but the engineer remained at his post. The engine turned over on the side opposite to that on which he was sitting, and he was injured to the framework of the cab he prevented himself from falling, and after the engine stopped, he climbed out of the cab, uninjured.

When the engine left the track, the mail car, which was coupled to it, followed, and pushed by the momentum of the heavy train it veered around and when it stopped it was at right angles with the track. The baggage car, which was behind the mail car, also left the track, but did not turn over. None of the passenger cars left the rails, and beyond the locomotive and the baggage car, the train continued on its way, the passengers suffering no injury nor inconvenience.

The mail clerks in the forward car were severely shaken up, but none of them was injured.

The wrecked train was to have passed the southbound train, due here at 12:15 o'clock, at Saugus, but the train was delayed nearly four hours. It reached Los Angeles at 5:20 o'clock in the afternoon.

Fortunately near the scene of the wreck the railroad company had a large construction gang, and nearly three hundred men were at once placed at work to clear the wreck. Another engine was sent from Saugus, and after the obstruction had been removed the train proceeded, a baggage car being used as a mail car. It was necessary to send the wrecking train from this city to right the overturned engine and return it to the local shops.

FINE PICTURES AT Y.W.C.A. Gardner Symons of Royal Academy Opens Free Exhibit of California Paintings Here.

Gardner Symons, exhibitor at the Royal Academy, London, and the Paris Salon, is showing a collection of California scenes, done in oil by his hand, at the parlors of the Y.W.C.A. The exhibition opened yesterday, under the auspices of some of the leading society people, and will continue till April 4.

None of the pictures are for sale, and admittance is charged, and after the paintings are taken down from their present position they will be shipped direct to the Royal Academy at London.

The collection here are forty-eight of the studies, many of them works that must have required long and patient toil, yet the artist has done all within two years. Some of them appear hurried and rather incomplete, while others, the majority, in fact, are probably as fine a collection of California hills and valleys and quiet ocean stretches as have ever been shown here.

Four appeal especially to the lover of nature, because of their calm and breadth of conception. They are a beautifully-colored sketch of the poppy fields, a lifelike portrait of "Old Baldy," and two splendid ocean pictures. Mr. Symons, whose home is at Arch Beach, is in charge of the exhibition.

PURGING MASONIC LODGES. NEW YORK, March 25.—While Masonic lodges which are found to have undesirable members will be thoroughly purged, it is thought by Masons generally that these bodies will not necessarily be obliterated. Even Doric Lodge, which has at least temporarily lost its charter, will not be kept beyond the pale. The cleansing process, however, will extend throughout this State, and more than eight hundred lodges will be concerned.

Grand Master Crandall is collecting evidence which will soon be used in the case of the men responsible for the admission of "Shang" Draper into Doric Lodge. It is expected if these men are found guilty, they will be driven from the order.

DID NOT ALIENATE COW'S AFFECTIONS. ESCALLIER, a butcher, has vindicated himself of the peculiar charge of alienating the affections of a cow.

The charge arose out of a sudden and passionate affection conceived by a motherly old bell cow for Mr. Escallier, the butcher. After once seeing him, she manifested every intention of following him on to the ends of the earth.

Mr. Escallier had gone to Compton to buy stock. This cow was in a herd belonging to a man named John Gries. As he was looking the cattle over one cow manifested a great interest in him. She followed him around.

Escallier bought several cows, but refused this one. When he collected his purchases and started away, this old cow followed placidly after. Escallier noticed her in his herd and yelled at her, but she only gave him a reproachful glance and doggedly tagged on. Escallier turned her out of the herd, but she suffered his blows without retreat and crept back in his wake. At last, in despair, Escallier had to allow the faithful brute to follow him.

When Gries discovered that the cow was gone he was very furious and had Escallier arrested. Escallier had a great before a Compton justice of the peace and has been discharged as guiltyless.

THE TROUBLES OF THE TROLLEY MEN.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

City officials yesterday estimated the damage to city streets by the storm at about $25,000.

Many complaints and protests are pouring into the municipal offices because of the new license ordinance, which will shortly go into effect.

Pete Emigrat was arraigned in the Police Court for torturing calves on the way to market.

Santa Theresa, the girl messiah, was plaintiff in a divorce case yesterday.

The District Attorney holds that divorced people securing decrees before May 2 may marry immediately.

AT THE CITY HALL.

STORM DOES DAMAGE TO CITY STREETS.

GRAVELED SURFACES WASHED AWAY IN MANY PLACES.

Oil from the Mill Section Rides the Flood and Clings Tenaciously to Lanes, Curb and Sidewalks in the Southwestern Section of the City.

Damage to the streets by the down-pour Tuesday evening is estimated at about $25,000 by conservative city officials. Gravel surfaces were washed away, sand and sediment were deposited on the sidewalks and much crude petroleum from the oil district was left on streets and curbs in the southern section of the city. No very bad wash-outs occurred, and the accidents reported were few.

Had the new storm drain system been in place, the damage to the streets would have been less.

Prayer for the Mayor.

Mayor Snyder did not appear yesterday because Carrie Nation and members of the W.C.T.U. had thought necessary to set the day apart as one of prayer for the Chief Executive.

"I hope that Divine Providence will always direct me so that I may do what is right," declared the Mayor.

"Not all the good citizens of the city are of one mind about the closing of the city," declared the Mayor.

Councilman Davenport of the Sixth Ward and Mayor Snyder were in conference yesterday over a resolution which the former will introduce in the Council next Monday, calling for the appointment of seventy-five more policemen.

Incidentally it is said the Chief Executive would not tip his hand that he might possibly sign that ordinance.

The ordinance was drafted to meet the expected $10,000 deficit, but is freely predicted that, owing to the action of Councilmen who were stampeaded by the liquor men, the measure will not result in increased revenue.

If the 200 saloons, 78 drug stores, 45 wholesale liquor dealers and 72 restaurants with liquor licenses should pay the tax put upon them in the new ordinance the aggregate revenue would be $22,700, as compared with $12,100 under the former ordinance.

In addition there are 1674 licenses, the probable return from which has not yet been figured. Licenses of all kinds formerly yielded an average return of $16,500 a month.

Tax Collector Johnson has appointed John D. O. Shearon of the Ninth Ward additional license collector.

Two hours after the wedding officers arrived and arrested the bridegroom and packed him off to jail. Sh. said she was not married to him.

She told the judge that she was married to Rodriguez by a justice of the peace in Clifton, Ariz. She said she was married at her father's house, although she stated that her father did not consent to the marriage. There were about twenty people present, and it was apparently a regular "blow-out."

Judge Conroy asked her: "What did you know about his financial condition?"

"Only what he told me," she said in Spanish.

"What was that?"

"He told me he had property and a house for me in Chihuahua."

When her brother took the stand, Judge Conroy asked him what Rodriguez was put in jail for. He said he didn't know.

"I didn't inquire because I don't know," he said.

"What was a matter of interest to you to know why your sister's new husband was taken to jail two hours after the wedding?"

"No, 'not interest me," Judge Conroy took the case under advisement.

MRS. WIDNEY'S WILL.

Dr. Joseph P. Widney has filed a petition for letters of administration in the estate of his wife, Mrs. Mary B. Widney. The estate is valued at $21,000, and goes to her husband. She says in her will: "I hereby give and bequeath all of my property, both real and personal, to my dear husband Joseph P. Widney, for him to do with as he sees fit, in the Lord's work, for himself and for my family."

ROBBED FRIEND.

WEST IS CONVICTED.

James A. West, who robbed his friend, E. M. Hollis, was convicted of burglary in Judge Smith's court.

West and Hollis were working for the same electric company in Redlands and came to the city together last month. West knew that Hollis had money on his person and took a room next to Hollis's at a hotel.

During the night, West broke into Hollis's room and took $100 and two watches.

Trials of Pete Emigrat in Progress Before Justice Chambers—Defense Putting Up a Hard Fight—Suits for Permitting Oil to Run on Streets.

Pete Emigrat, who was arraigned several days ago for cruelty to animals, had part of his trial before Justice Chambers yesterday.

Emigrat was charged with cruelty to animals, and the defense put up a hard fight.

The defense put up a hard fight, and the case was continued until today.

THE OIL NUISANCE.

As a result of the flood of oil that ran down over the city along with the flood water, two arrests have been made.

A. M. Miller and H. Y. Bick were arrested, charged with allowing waste from oil wells to be deposited on Victor street. They will have their trials today.

POLICE GUESSEST.

Since the announcement on Tuesday of the reduction to the ranks of Secretary Cottle of the police department, without naming his successor, everybody about the station has been guessing who the man will be.

Of those talked of yesterday N. T. Powell, for four years clerk of the Police Court under Justice Morgan, was the most frequently mentioned as the likely man for the place. Powell is already married.

BALL SEASON OPENS TODAY.

Los Angeles and Seattle are to Be Contestants.

Mayor Snyder to Pitch First Ball Delivered.

Opposition Club Has Signed Nine Players Up to Date—Pugs Arrive.

The season of the Pacific Coast Baseball League will open today in Los Angeles, San Francisco and Sacramento.

The six clubs that are to battle for the pennant will parade to the grounds in each city with various officials in their wake.

In Los Angeles this afternoon the contestants will be the Los Angeles and Seattle teams, and they will begin play at Chutes Park at 2:30 o'clock, if rain does not prevent.

Before the game there will be a parade through the principal streets, similar to the one that ushered in the opening game last season.

A number of automobiles, trailers and carriages will assemble at the City Hall to receive Mayor Snyder, various city and county officials, members of the press and the Seattle and Los Angeles ball teams.

Headed by a brass band, the parade will start at 1 o'clock from the City Hall and will go down Broadway to Main street, and down Spring street to Main street and the Chutes grounds.

When the game is called, Mayor Snyder will pitch the first ball.

Walcott is a short, stocky black man about the color of Sam McVey, and probably would not be taken for a fighter by many persons who would pass him on the street. He apparently looks upon his encounter with Walcott as an easy thing, and is confident of winning.

Billy Delaney, manager of Champion Jim Jeffries, is also in town, and states that he does not expect to get here for six weeks. The Jeff-Fits show is now in Pittsburgh, and may possibly take in the South before Jeff decides to come here. He declares that all those stories about Jeffries having gone back and having become a hard drinker, are false.

Bowling.

The directors of the Southern California Bowling Association, will meet this evening in the Temple Elbow to wind up the business of the recent tournament.

Horse Racing.

The articles of incorporation of the Los Angeles Jockey Club, the plans of which were announced in The Times some days ago, were filed in the County Clerk's office yesterday.

The capital stock is $500,000, of which $100 has been subscribed by the following seven directors: Eugene Randolph, J. M. Hale, W. E. Dunn, J. W. Brooks, J. M. Hale, W. E. Dunn, J. W. Brooks.

How Thought Affects the Face.

ESSENTIALS OF BEAUTY.

THE MOST IMPORTANT REQUIREMENT IN A PROPER HABIT OF THOUGHT—PATIENCE, INDULGENCE IN ANGER, ENVY, WORRY, ETC., INEVITABLY DESTROY COMELINESS.

By W. R. C. Lanson, M.D.

(From Health Culture Magazine, New York)

BEAUTY is not easily defined. Attempts to explain what beauty is are usually failures. This is so probably because beauty is essentially subjective—an impression produced in the mind of the beholder. And the ability to awaken that impression of beauty in the beholder may be possessed by individuals of widely different characteristics. Underlying this, however, is the fact that the most interesting and profound psychological and racial problems known, but that cannot be discussed here.

ESSENTIALS OF BEAUTY.

Without attempting to define beauty, a little thought will make clear that, in what we ordinarily call physical beauty, there are several elements, most of which are present in every person recognized as beautiful. For the present purpose we may consider five of these. First, a certain inherent regularity of form and feature; second, normal state of nourishment of the body tissues; third, a clear, delicate complexion; fourth, ease and grace of movement; and fifth, expressiveness of facial movement and gesture.

Now for the physical beauty of the highest type the cultured critic of this time and world would consider all of these elements, with the possible exception of the last.

As a matter of fact, the cultural critic of this time and world would consider all of these elements, with the possible exception of the last.

a beautifying effect upon the face. Not only that, but these positive mental states have a most salutary effect upon the general functions, as explained elsewhere in this article.

EMOTIONS AND GESTURES.

There is one more element of beauty which we have to consider. That is ease and grace of movement. Lack of this in a body of faultless contours would be an absolute bar to beauty. Now, how does the mental state influence movement? To explain this we must briefly consider gesture. Gesture has its beginning deep in the history of those rudimentary, subhuman life forms preceding man in the evolutionary scale. To close the jaws firmly and to move the head from side to side was their natural mode of refusing a proffered article. With them it meant refusal, negation. To us it means the same. With the lower animals to lower the head and to act and thrust out the jaw meant anger, menace, a threat. In mankind the same gesture means the same thing.

And so, for every emotion, there is a corresponding gesture of the body just as we find that for every emotion there are two kinds—a kind that he frankly shows and a kind that he tries to conceal. Love, happiness, contentment, trust, self-reliance, firmness, these we feel to be worthy, and these, save under exceptional conditions, we allow free expression. But envy, hatred, anger, malice, remorse, irritability, worry, distrust—these and similar emotions we invariably try to conceal, or another reason to conceal. And this effort at concealment—this effort to prevent the muscles from obeying the motor impulse corresponding to that emotion—produces a muscular rigidity which is destructive of ease, grace or flexibility of movement.

A BEAUTY RECIPE.

To her who would be beautiful, it may be said: Avoid all thought of evil, all unkindness, all envy, all malice, all irritability. Learn that each human is trying to solve his problem according to his best light. Learn that nothing on earth is of sufficient importance to warrant worry; that the Ruling Power is doing all things well, even though now and then individuals think they are inconvenient. Learn a broad, general love and tolerance of all humankind, including yourself. And there—be calm. There is really nothing to fear. No one can injure you but yourself.

So this is the mental attitude for beauty and for health. Take this attitude and try to hold it habitually. You will not wholly succeed, but you will not wholly fail. And as day by day you cultivate a habit of thinking and feeling, the heart beats more strongly, the breath goes deeper, all the functions are improved, the tense muscles relax and the lines in the face soften.

Beauty is not skin deep. It is deep as the woman's life of eating, drinking, sleeping, working, resting. More than all—because determining all else—her habits of thought.

STREET RAILWAY PEOPLE KEEP SHARP LOOKOUT.

More Men Suspected of Assimilating Rank Ideas Preached by Union Leaders Promptly Discharged—Fiesta-time Strike Reported Planned.

Several more car men's heads dropped in the official basket yesterday, because they were suspected by the operating department of the Los Angeles Railway Company of being tainted with the unionism preached by Freeman and Schaffer. The total number discharged to date for this cause is twelve. Yesterday's addition to the list includes A. J. Blanchard and A. P. Pick, conductors, and C. E. Dailey, H. M. Ward, J. W. McKinley and A. Granger, motormen.

Some of the suspected men begged hard to be retained, but Superintendent Akin was steadfast in his determination. One or two of the men had been slated for discharge Tuesday, but about half convinced the authorities that they were wrongly accused. When let off on probation they are said to have promptly got KILLING BY YACUIS.

Man and Woman Murdered Near Tonin, Sonora, and Eleven of the Indians Captured by Troops.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.) GUAYMAS (Sonora, Mex.) March 23.—Americans who have just come in by stage from the Alamos district report the murder of a Mexican man and woman near Tonin, Thursday by the Yacuis, and also report that eleven of the band who committed the act were captured by the troops. This is the band of Indians the troops have been chasing for over three months. The Indians have not offered violence to any one or committed any act of depredation in that part of the country until now.

Troops are now patrolling the stage road and a vigorous hunt is being made for the remaining portion of the Indian band.

PROVEN ORANGE & OLIVE LANDS.

The land in the MacLay Water Company Tract has been proven by fourteen years' testing to be exactly suitable for orange growing. Part of the land is also good olive land. We sell young orange orchards, planted with 80 trees to the acre, 1-year-old buds on 3-year-old roots, water and care free for two years, at a total cost of $250.00 to $275.00 per acre.

Anyone investing now will find their orchard worth a good deal more than the price paid before the two years of free care-taking expire.
